

Interdisciplinary offers and a strong network for your doctorate

During your doctorate, you conduct intensive research on a specific topic and at the same time gain a wide range of professional perspectives within and beyond the field of science. The interdisciplinary program of Research Academy Ruhr (RAR) supports you in successfully mastering the different phases of your research career (PhD, Postdoc, Junior Faculty) and preparing for the next steps. Enhance your competencies and learn about career opportunities in science, business, and society in exchange with experienced researchers or regional companies.

The graduate institutions of the three universities in the Ruhr Area—RUB Research School, Graduate Center TU Dortmund University (TUDo), and Graduate Center Plus of the University of Duisburg-Essen (UDE)—offer you a wide range of qualification programs and comprehensive advice. Under the umbrella of RAR, you can furthermore connect with doctoral researchers from the entire University Alliance Ruhr (UA Ruhr) across disciplines. Develop new ideas and collaborations for your research by exchanging experiences with other early career researchers and become part of a strong community!

About RAR

RAR is the cross-university platform for promoting early career researchers within the UA Ruhr. In addition to their own counseling and qualification offers, RUB Research School, the Graduate Center TUDo and the Graduate Center Plus of the UDE jointly offer an interdisciplinary event program under the umbrella of RAR.

Frühjahrs- akademie

For a good start into your doctorate

Get your first orientation in this multi-day training academy before or during the starting phase of your doctorate. Is a doctorate the right thing for me? How do I get started and how do I design my "project doctorate"? You will find initial help in short workshops.

 Every year in March/April

www.ra-ruhr.de/fruehjahrsakademie

Science meets business

Discuss current career-relevant topics and social developments with a leading expert from the world of business over lunch. Take the opportunity to gain first-hand insight into the activities, strategies and decision-making processes of well-known companies and institutions.

 Every year in June
